LOCAL JOTTINGS.

Remember the Fire Brigade Concert on Friday, May 17

Miss Mildred Buchanan, of Ingersoll, Ontario, is the guest of Mrs Boles

Mrs Laing, of Carbon, was here Saturday

"How to run a newspaper" by W. S. Bush, is the title of a neat little booklet which may be issued shortly

Mrs McClintock and family of three and Miss Desch arrived from Baltimore, Md., on Sunday to go on the farm of Messrs Desch & McClintock, five miles south-east of here

Messrs O. Desjardine and H. J. Prestwick, of Gleichen, were here Sunday

Mr R. L. Frost is now employed on the farm of Messrs Carufel & Frost

The newspaper business has its trials, and perhaps the worst of these is to have a man that has all his work cut out to manage his own business going around town making suggestions as to how the local newspaper should be run. We don't appreciate "knockers."

Editor Harris of the "Bowden News," has some illuminating remarks to make in his last issue on a class of people who we are thankful to say, are very rare in Strathmore. "There is another class—we used to call them 'pickers' or 'cheap skates' in the States—the kind that want to get 'free puffs' and aren't sports enough to maintain their home paper but leave the burden to fall on the other business men. There are the 'wise guys,' the 'knows it alls' the 'cheap guys' who stand around and say: 'I'd like to run that paper—I'd show him' when chances are that they would start to sell their name 'Phoo!' instead of just plain 'D. Fool!'

We like to receive suggestions from our readers as to the conducting of this paper, and all we have received in the past we have given effect to where practicable, but we like the suggestions made direct, and we don't appreciate unjust insinuations made behind our backs

As we have been from our advertising columns, the Local Improvement District Committee are advertising for tenders for road improvement in the district. We hope to see a large number of farmers tendering. It is a very necessary work, and the Committee are not laying down any arbitrary conditions as to time

Fire Brigade concert, May 17. Don't forget to be there

Several indignant citizens called on us in the forefront of this week to ask why the school flag, bought by public subscription last year, had not been hoisted at half-mast on account of the death of King Edward. Of course, we didn't know, but on making inquiries found that it was deemed inadvisable to risk it out in the stormy weather of Monday and Tuesday, and that on the other days it was inadvertently forgotten. The omission of this very necessary mark of respect to the dead monarch has now been rectified

Even, at that, however, we do not consider that the British flag, "the flag that braved a thousand years the battle and the breeze," should be kept in doors for a mere wind or snow storm on such an occasion, especially when the flags at the Police Barracks and the engineers' headquarters were hoisted. Even if the flag does get torn, the Strathmore people have enough patriotic spirit to buy another one

Cecil Lloyd, the infant son of Mr and Mrs. Lloyd, has been very seriously ill all this week

Mr and Mrs Eugene Sly returned this week from their honeymoon trip, and have taken up residence at Strathmore

M. Bleriot, C. Hartzinger, and Mr and Mrs Douglas, of Carbon, stayed here Tuesday, as also did Miss Robertson of Midnapore

Mr G. W. Leigh is here at present building a house for Mr Petter, 6 miles from Strathmore

Mr W. B. McKibbin is here at present as telegraph operator to relieve the permanent operator, who has taken up duty at Langdon owing to the illness of the Langdon stationmaster, Mr Carey

Mr C. J. Wells, from Boyne City, Mich., arrived here this week

Rev. E. Elman, Lethbridge, a pastor of the Swedish Church, visited some members of that Church resident here during the week

Dr. J. T. Reid, from Montreal, who owns much property in Strathmore, was here this week looking over his interests

Mr M. S. Dunlap has not the contract for fixing up the bad place on the east road, near Mr Boisevain's, from the L.L.D.

A newspaper offered a prize for the best answer to the conundrum:—"Why is a newspaper like a woman?" The prize was won by a lady in Oklahoma, who sent in the following: "Because every man should have one of his own and not run after his neighbor's."

Mr W. S. Johnson, of Kingston, New York, visited here this week. He will be here for three or four weeks. We know him as a Mr Robertson, who contemplates buying land in the district

A notable visitor here this week was Mr W. W. Murray, of the Imperial Oil Co., who is here making the arrangements for the erection of oil tanks at Strathmore, and for the putting in of a spur track

More advertising for Strathmore. Mr Harbeck, the C. P.R. official photographer, was here on Thursday, and took moving pictures of the people arriving over the 2.15 train, also of land-seekers entering the C.P.R. land office and afterwards being driven out in rigs

A wrestling match between two local men is expected to be brought off here within a fortnight

The two engines which have been lying opposite the station since last summer are being fitted up for use

Arbor Day did not seem to be very generally celebrated locally

Two births fall to be recorded this week—a son to Mr and Mrs J. Smith, and a daughter to Mr and Mrs W. A. Matthews

The Strathmore Camp of the M.W.A. will initiate from eight to ten new members at their meeting on Wednesday night. An ice cream supper and social will follow. All Woodmen in the district are invited to attend this meeting

Be sure to come and hear the Musical Eckharts on Thursday

THE KING DIES PEACEFULLY

Intelligence that the End Had Come Was Not a Surprise, Death Being Expected at Any Hour—Capital-Prices News Without Excitement, but Sadly—Prince of Wales Succeded to the Crown.

London—King Edward VII., who returned to England from a vacation a few days ago in the best of health, died at 11.45 p.m., on May 6, in the presence of his family, after an illness of less than a week, from causes hardly more than three days.

The Prince of Wales, successor to the crown, immediately, according to the laws of the kingdom, without official ceremony. His first official act was, to despatch to the Lord Mayor, announcement of his father's death, in pursuance of custom.

The physician, soon afterwards, is believed to have been the cause of death, but the doctors thus far have refused to make a statement. Some of the King's friends are convinced that worry over the critical political situation, which confronted him, with sleepless nights, exhausted him, and caused the fatal illness. Besides the nearest relatives in England, the Duke of Fife and the Archbishop of Canterbury were in the death chamber.

The intelligence that the end of King Edward's reign had come was not a surprise at the last. The people had been expecting it at any hour after the issue of the bulletin, which was posted at Buckingham Palace shortly before his death, and was flashed throughout the kingdom.

The capital received it without excitement, but sadly, for the King with his own people was unquestionably one of the most popular rulers in the world. They regarded him as one of the strongest forces making for the stability of the peace of the empire.

Within a few minutes after the death of the King the home office was telegraphing the intelligence to the heads of other governments and the British diplomatic corps in all capitals throughout the world.

One of the last words attributed to King Edward was, "Well, it's all over, but I think I have done my duty." He seemed then to have reached to a full realization that his end was fast approaching.

The Queen and others of the royal family and four doctors had been constantly in the sick room throughout the day. Several hours before his death, the King was in a comatose condition, but he was able to utter between nine and ten o'clock, and then appeared to have recognized his family. Then he lapsed into unconsciousness, which ended in his passing.

The body lies in the state chamber in the northwest wing of Buckingham Palace, which is brilliantly lighted.

MANY VIEWS OF CANADA

London Post Thinks British Farmers Should Unite to Tax Colonial Wheat

London—The Morning Post objecting in the interests of agriculturists to free importation of colonial wheat, which may ultimately mean the loss of two million pounds to the revenue, says if the farmers' organizations would only concentrate, they would not prove strong enough to get their own way but by asserting their claim, that they be recognized as a self-governing dominion, each of which has adopted similar policy of drawing revenue from British as well as foreign imports.

The Daily Mail, agent Laurier's remarks on the choice of a vicar, says coming from a statesman of French descent and great experience these remarks are flattering to our national pride and any departure from present practice would be productive of harm. The Standard describes the scene at Ottawa as memorable and moving.

The Daily Standard criticizes Canada borrowing millions, making the point that the last thing to be desired is continued unpopularity of the Canadian municipal issues, with British investors, even if at times some concessions have to be given as regards price of issue and method in place of taking advantage of loan companies, which might arise if a loan were put up for public tender.

The Times says Laurier's insight is equal to his great experience and he never excelled in clearness of vision and felicity of phrase, passages which he recently outlined the relations between the British governmental and systems of national self-government wherever they were sent to preside. Laurier speaks on all constitutional questions with the calmness and the fervor and imagination of Gladstone.

Italy Called on Britain to Intercede

London—A despatch from Milan says in reference to the Italian-Canadian negotiations, that the Italian glove trade are suffering in consequence of the new Italian tariff, which is a result of the Italian tariff. It was announced in the chamber of deputies that the Italian tariff has been invoked to interfere with the Italian tariff. The Italian tariff has been invoked to interfere with the Italian tariff. The Italian tariff has been invoked to interfere with the Italian tariff.

Vatican Will Protest

Rome—It is understood that the Vatican will forward a protest to the pope of Monaco because of the Italian tariff. It is understood that the Vatican will forward a protest to the pope of Monaco because of the Italian tariff. It is understood that the Vatican will forward a protest to the pope of Monaco because of the Italian tariff.

Daylight Saving

Montreal—Official notice has been issued by the management of the Canadian Pacific putting into force a daylight saving bill, which the staffs go into work an hour earlier in the afternoon. The bill is a result of the management of the Canadian Pacific putting into force a daylight saving bill, which the staffs go into work an hour earlier in the afternoon.

at, while the rest of the great gloomy building, with the exception of Lord Knolly's office, is entirely darkened. It was nearly half an hour after the King breathed his last, when Lord Knolly walked into the office and said to the waiting reporters: "Gentlemen, his Majesty is dead."

The people outside the palace only learned the news when messengers appeared with papers. In the meantime, the Prince and Princess of Wales had taken leave of the other members of the royal family at the main entrance some after midnight. They drove direct to Marlborough House, Princess Victoria, who is her mother's constant companion, remained with the Queen. The others of the family followed the Prince and Princess of Wales.

C. P. R. Started Survey

Lethbridge—A C. P. R. survey gang has started taking surveys for a new line of railroad from Carmouche eastward.

The proposed railway will run past the Stafford coal mines and on to Medicine Hat.

It will give transportation facilities to a big new country that is rapidly filling up with farmers and which has coal in tremendous quantities.

Indicates Expansion

London—The Bishop of Athabasca urges the church to make provision for settlers invading northern Alberta. The Bishop of Moose Jaw calls for new stations in northern Ontario.

Appoint Board of Conciliation

Ottawa—A board of conciliation and investigation under the Industrial Disputes Act has been established to deal with the differences which have arisen between the Grand Trunk Pacific railway company and its telegraphers.

Judge McMillan, county judge of Peel, Ont., is chairman of the board, while Donald Ross, of Barrie, represents the company, and W. T. L. Lee, of Toronto, the union.

The board, it is expected, will compare the record of the company with that of the union, and will report on the matter to the government.

Monument to Montcalm

Quebec—A bronze monument to Montcalm, the French general who was killed at the battle of the Plains, is to be erected at the foot of the St. Lawrence river.

Waterways Treaty

Ottawa—Secretary Knox and British Ambassador Bryce exchanged ratifications of the international waterways treaty recently which relates to the new waters on the three thousand mile boundary of the United States and Canada.

The provisions of the treaty establish a new tribunal of arbitration between the two countries and Canada, by which differences arising between them and which concern only the two countries may be settled by their own representatives without resort to outside intervention.

The treaty is to remain in force five years and thereafter until terminated upon twelve months written notice given by either government.

War Rivals Are Now at Peace

Pekin—An early announcement of the Russo-Japanese peace treaty, which was signed at Portsmouth, N.H., has been received in Peking. The treaty is a result of the Russo-Japanese peace treaty, which was signed at Portsmouth, N.H.

Insurrection Expected

Tokio—The Japanese government has ordered the army division stationed in western Japan to be in constant readiness for the event of a general insurrection. It is expected that the Japanese government will order the army division stationed in western Japan to be in constant readiness for the event of a general insurrection.

Think War Office Too Close

London—Several territorial associations are disputing the war office proximity. The Memorandum association resolved that administration was impossible without $1,000 increase.

A Hundred Miners Killed in Alabama

Birmingham—One hundred miners were killed by an explosion of gas in a mine in Alabama. The explosion occurred in a mine in Alabama.

Affect Liquor Traffic

London—Distillers expect continue to be affected by the new liquor law. The new liquor law is expected to affect the distillers.

CAREER OF THE NEW KING

Described as Less Democratic Than His Father—Began His Career as Cadet in the Royal Navy at Age of 12 Years, and Received Rank of Commander in 1891—King is Now Almost 45 Years of Age.

His Majesty, George V., by the ward VII., and thereby transferred the position of heir-apparent to the Duke of York. The new reign was inaugurated at its opening by a tour around the world by the Duke of York aboard the ship Ophir, which was launched by his father, King Edward VII., in the memory of many of our Canadian readers. King Edward VII. marked the home-coming of the Duke of York from this voyage aboard the ship by creating him a Knight of the Garter, and in the past six hundred years by "The Elder Son of England."

In 1900 the Prince of Wales left England in company with his consort for an extensive tour through India, which was fraught with the most beneficial results from a political point of view, as a means of introducing the native chiefs and princes of Hindustan to their future overlord, the future Emperor of India.

In celebration of his safe return from the tour around the world he was knighted by the Duke of York's coronation at the Guild hall on December 2, 1901, on which occasion he was created a Knight of the Garter, and "to wake up." In the fall of 1901, he was created a Knight of the Garter, and in the fall of 1901, he was created a Knight of the Garter.

The death of Queen Victoria on January 22, 1901, raised the Duke of York to the throne as Edward VII., and the Duke of York to the throne as Edward VII.

Should Maintain the Lords

LANGDON NOTES.

Mr John Biggs has bought and fitted up the two-room cottage which the Rev. Mr. Todd started to build and rented it to Rev. Mr. Hadfield. This is the second venture John has made in Langdon real estate with success, and we hear he has taken up a homestead and pre-emption.

Hill and Morey has placed four De Laval separators on farms this week.

Thos. Walker of Calgary has engaged with Mr. Patterson as baker. He started in work last week.

E. O. Bradley of Toronto has been in town for the last few days and has several contracts for painting and paperhanging.

The Board of Trade will meet next Monday at 8 o'clock. Every one come.

The I.O.O.F. are enjoying a period of great success. 15 new members were initiated recently and received the first degree on Wednesday. The latter furnished some light lunch in Barratt's Hall for the Lodge.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Moran of Benet is sick with asthma.

Mr J. McConaghy is trying to get up a second baseball team, and any boys in the country who can play are asked to apply to him about the position they are accustomed to play. This team could make it interesting to the first team, and also give some outside games.

We extend to Mr and Mrs Elliot Lloyd our hearty congratulations on the birth of a daughter on Sunday, May 1.

The sympathy of the many friends in Langdon goes out to Mr and Mrs Theo. Lowe in the death of their seven-year-old daughter Ethel. The little girl had a severe attack of appendicitis quite recently, and the doctors thought it was necessary to operate, while she had strength. She was taken to Calgary General Hospital, and died shortly after the operation. A bright young life has been taken from earth to the joys of heaven. Interment took place on Saturday last in Calgary. She leaves a father, mother, one sister, and two brothers and many friends to mourn her early death. She was a child of rare qualities having won all by her sunny disposition and loving character. Her departure means a great vacancy in her home. She died in Calgary Hospital while undergoing an operation for appendicitis. Her pallbearers were Dr. V. Wright, H. O. Peterson, James Nelson, and Delores Ross. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Kerby.

Miss Mary Lyons, of Cheadle, is at present the guest of Mrs H. W. McKinnon.

Dr T. A. Wright, of Manitoba, and a younger son are visiting the son of the former Dr Victor Wright at Langdon.

Mrs S. W. Wilson paid a visit to Calgary on Tuesday.

Mrs C. M. Phillips returned from Michigan on Saturday.

Mr Jos. Cambden and family have moved into their new cottage.

Ed Armstrong sent a few letters out to Dalroy to latch the new schoolhouse.

We are sorry to hear that Mr Carey, the stationmaster, is laid up with his old complaint of asthma.

Rev. J. H. Riddell, D.D., president of Alberta College, Edmonton, preached an able and eloquent sermon in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening last. His text was "He that sinneth against instruction wrongeth his own soul; all they that hate instruction loveeth death. He defined instruction as laws which God had put into the world for the development and unfolding of the highest type of manhood. The measure of a man was not the clothes he wore or the physical powers he possessed or his position in society, but his wealth of mind and heart. The Professor drew largely from his own experience as an educator to illustrate how men fought against their highest good, how they loved death. By contending against those forces which develop men we court death. Death of individuality, death of thought and of soul—not hereafter but death here. Among the God-given forces for the development of human thought and character were the home, the school, and the church. The school had had a more important office than the member of parliament. The sermon was indeed a great inspiration to the young men and women of the place.

CARBON

Henry Prover and family are with us again on their homestead near Carbon.

Mrs G. Laing has sufficiently recovered from her serious illness to be able to return home after a long stay in Calgary general hospital.

A large safe arrived during the week for the bank. They expect to move the bank a lot further south.

A party of Grand Trunk graders passed through here Monday last.

We hope to see the railway come nearer town than at the present survey.

BEISENER

Beiseker, on the Langdon branch, is a booming town. A large hotel is under way. The Professor is talking about having a local hospital. The Traders Bank has opened up a branch there, and a large lively barn has been erected.

KEOMA.

Mr Williams returned to Iowa last Wednesday.

Mr and Mrs S. C. Besse of Langdon spent last Thursday here.

W. Ward and H. Battistord of Langdon called here last Friday.

Messrs James McKinnon and Blough of Swan River, Man., visited the former's brother, H. W. McKinnon, last week. Those gentlemen are much pleased with the look of this country and think of locating in those parts.

Mr and Mrs Hayes of Strathmore spent a few days of last week on their farm here.

Mrs Barrett arrived last Friday from New York city to join her husband on their farm six miles northwest of here.

Messrs Carlson and Cox are going into farming extensively a 32 horse-power engine arrived for them last week.

Mr Jarvis of Calgary was here last week in the interests of the Winnipeg Oil company.

Mr W. Rintoul left last week for Manitoba to attend the funeral of his mother. Much sympathy is extended.

CHEADLE

It is with sadness that we received the news that our beloved monarch King Edward had passed away and although we realize that we can't help but stay the kind of death, at the same time deeply share with our Empire in mourning the loss of so beloved and great a monarch.

BUILDER AND CONTRACTOR.

Estimates cheerfully given on all kinds of buildings. If in need of any work do not fail to let me give you figures. First-class work done and Prices Right.

W. W. WHITFIELD,

Builder and Contractor.

Namaka, Alta.

A meeting was held last week at Payne's Hall, and the Cheadle Athletic Club re-organized. Mr L. L. McDonald was elected president, and Mr J. W. Payne secretary.

The Cheadle people are so disgusted at the way the C.P.R. are treating their appeals for a permanent agent at the depot, that a petition is being sent in to the Railway Commission entreating them to insist upon the Company keeping an agent, thus relieving the public of considerable inconvenience.

The new meat market and store belonging to Mr. R. Davis will be opened in a few days.

A pool room has been opened at the new Cheadle restaurant.

The Foresters' Ball, as expected turned out to be quite a success. Over a hundred persons assembled for it at Payne's Hall and had a thoroughly enjoyable time. Everyone was pleased to see Mr and Mrs Hoffman and daughters present.

The Paris Orchestra, from Calgary, supplied first-class music. Mr J. G. Miller acted as floor manager in his accustomed able manner. Supper was served at 12 midnight, and was superintended by Mrs Griffiths, of Cheadle Restaurant.

There has been a long felt need for a restaurant at Cheadle, which has now been supplied by Mrs Griffiths. An ice-cream parlor is connected with it, and visitors to Cheadle in need of refreshment will do well by giving Mrs Griffiths their patronage.

Crops are certainly doing well in Cheadle district, and the outlook seems good for an abundant yield, on one farm the correspondent walking through measured out two inches high.

A movement is on foot to fill in the swamp near A. Silverthorne's house, so that persons travelling from W. J. Miller's in the direction of D. Smyth's home may have the shortest conveniently shortened.
